FURLOUGHED CREWS RETURNED TO WORK BY MONON DIVISION

Additional Demand for Men Being Felt by Local Pennsylvania Section

DEMAND IS FELT AT DONORA

Practically Every Available Man Put To Work at Down River Steel Town—Indications Are That Big Boom Has Just Started.

Five furloughed crews have been called back to work on the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad this week and additional demands for railroad men will be made during the next few weeks, it is certain in view of the renewed activity in the Pittsburg mill district and the coke region. The increase in the number of employed railroaders on the Monongahela is due largely to the firing of between 400 and 500 ovens in the coke field which this division taps. The men were put on at West Brownsville.

The resultant increase in the output of the Pittsburg furnaces will make necessary a supplemental addition to the already capacity worked crews on the road and those in authority profess to believe that within the next few months there will not be an idle railroader in the region.

The demand for raw labor on the Monongahela division and particularly in and about the Donora area. has been such that practically all the surplus workers in that region have been taken care of and any road improvement operations, which the big railroads may inaugurate are likely to be met by obstacles in the way of needed laborers.

A rumor was strongly current Wednesday afternoon among railroad officials that three stacks were to be blown in through the eastern part of Pennsylvania, Reading and Allentown and another point.

SOLDIERS MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED AT MONONGAHELA

The work of excavating for the foundation for the Soldiers monument to be erected in the main corridor of the new Monongahela Federal building at the corner of Chess and Fourth streets, Monongahela was started Wednesday and will be rushed to completion. Even though the building has not even been started the exact location of the corridor has been secured from the engineers and the monument will be placed permanently.

CLARK ANNOUNCES AS CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE

Norman Emmett Clark, Esq.

Norman Emmett Clark, Esq., in this issue formally announces his candidacy for the nomination for Judge of the Courts of Washington County at the primaries to be held on September 21, 1915.

Mr. Clark is a native of this county, being a son of Hon. John G. Clark of Franklin township. After attending the public schools, he graduated from Washington & Jefferson College in 1882 and was admitted to the bar in 1885. Since he has been in active practice as an attorney, being first associated with the firm of A. W. & M. C. Acheson, then with W. I. Berryman, and since 1904, first with W. S. Parker and Winfield McIlvaine and later wth Mr. McIlvaine alone.

As a lawyer , Mr. Clark's ability and attainments are conceded and necessarily so. He has been solicitor of the Borough of East Washington since shortly after its incorporation, continuously for a period of twenty-one years; and has no superiors in that branch of the law. At various times he has been counsel for the Sheriff, the Prothonotary and the Clerk of Courts; and this has given him an exceptional knowledge of what constitutes correct and safe practice in all these offices. In addition, his general practice in all the courts—Common Pleas, Orphan's Court and Quarter Sessions—has been extensive and has given him a knowledge of the law in all its branches that is not often found combined in a single individual. He has always been a student of the law; and his constant object and endeavor has been to discover and apply, not cases, but the principles which underlie and on which decisions of all our courts are founded.

While Mr. Clark is first a lawyer and has given his time and thought to his profession, yet, as all good citizens should, he has always taken an interest in politics and was the candidate for Presidential Elector on the Republican ticket in this Congressional district in 1912 and was Chairman of the Repubican County Committee in 1914.

As a man, Mr. Clark measures up to a high standard. He posseses an excellent judgement and believes in being fair to everybody: two essential and controlling qualifications in a judge. In his youth he was trained up in the w ay every man should go, and he has never departed from it. He is married and has a family of three children.

From this brief statement of facts it is evident that, if elected judge, Mr. Clark will b ring to the execution of that high office a knowledge of the law an ability and a poise of the very highest order.

FARMER SUSTAINS INJURIES WHEN LEG IS CAUGHT IN MOWER

Independence Township Man Tries to Escape, But Does Not Succeed in Getting Over Cutter Bar.

As the result of being caught in the wheels of a mowing machine when a team of mules attached became frightened and attempted to run off William F. Kline a well known contractor of Independence is in the Ohio Valley hospital at Wheeling suffering from a fractured leg between the knee and the ankle.

Kline was mowing a field of hay on his farm near the village and it is supposed that the span of mules he was driving became frightened at the rattle of the mowing machine and bolted. Seeing that he could not stop them Mr. Kline attempted to jump from the machine. His right foot was caught in the wheel and the leg broken. Fortunately he did not fall in front of the cutter bar.

SQUARE DANCING NOW MAY BE FAD

Old Fashioned Idea of Light Fantastic to be Tried Out By Local Club

ARRANGE EVENTS AT ELDORA

Square dancing will be revived at Eldora park next week, when on Tuesday a Charleroi club will give their first dance of the kind. Like fashions, it is declared, dances finally get around to what is the oldest. Square dancing is one of the older sort of dances and a sort that those of the older generation know and enjoy. However the Eldora dances are not to be given by these older ones, but by the younger set. C. Blythe is the head of the committee arranging the square dances for Eldora park. The intention is to hold the dances every Tuesday night.

On Wednesday night of next week a private dance will be given by the Tecolote club of California. Invitations have been issued and the event will be made one of the usual kind held by this popular up-river organization.

On Thursday the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of the Monongahela valley will hold their annual picnic and outing at the park. A good program of events has been arranged for this event.

On Friday the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church of Charleroi will hold a picnic at the park. The usual program will be carried out. Various contests will be held.

Whenever Greene county gets tired making hay when the sun shines, it starts poisoning and hanging as a diversion.

Playgrounds and Beach Program to be Carried Out Much as Announced

THIS SECOND POSTPONEMENT

Was First Set Ahead From July Fifth—Charleroi Child Welfare Circle Looking After Event—Program Friday May be Minus Parade.

Providing the skies clear and nothing else of an unexpected nature happens the playgrounds and beach celebration marred today by rain will be held tomorrow afternoon. However, it will in all probability be minus the parade which was to have been an enjoyable feature of today's event.

The celebration at the playgrounds and beach has now been twice postponed. The celebration w as first arranged for July fifth, but owing to other affairs going o n here at that time it was thought best to put off the celebration until today. Then rain interferred today, necessitating a further postponement.

The program will begin tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the playgrounds and practically the same program as previously arranged will be carried out, ending with the beach events in the evening at the Charleroi beach.

The Charleroi Child Welfare Circle is in charge of the celebration. The Circle had arranged for conducting a sale of refreshments in connection with the celebration, first at the playgrounds and then at the bathing beach and various kinds of delicacies have been prepared.

IS WELCOME, BUT—

There are very few Republicans who will not welcome the re-entry into the party councils of such a capable and learned person as Dr. Henry W. Temple.

We want all Progressives to line up with the old party, thus insuring added strength and permanence to the organization that has stood so strongly for the preservation of American institutions and the fixedness of economic prosperity.

We should, however, have much preferred to announce Dr. Temple's voluntary return to allegiance without his tentative petition for a place at the head of the ticket.

The Progressive party included many such citizns of high standing but it also included many more who were always ready to desert the party and to disrupt it, very often for their own personal ends, but under the guise of reform.

Dr. Temple's candidacy was first fostered by ex-congressman Acheson and with their coterie they attempted to wreck the older party in this district. He was on more than one occasion openly and notoriously opposed to the ticket upon which he now wishes to run. The rank and file of active workers who have tried to keep together an unbossed organization in Washington county will much prefer to see Dr. Temple serve and eat at the council table instead of at the pie counter, at least for the present.

If he will put his shoulder to the wheel and help rehabilitate the party in his own country there will be many opportunities for reward in the future, because that party is absolutely unbossed. With these conditions conscientious effort of the most timid kind very promptly realizes its recompense.

EVERY CHILD A CITIZEN

How one community trains its children for the responsibilities of citizenship is described in a bulletin just issued by the U. S. Bureau of Education on "Civic Education in Elementary Schools as Illustrated in Indianapolis."

"The practice in the Indianapolis schools," says Arthur W. Dunn, author of the bulletin, "is to help the pupil to understand the nature of his own community and his responsibility for it; to develop a right attitude toward government as the means by which all members of the community may cooperate for the common interest; and to cultivate habits of right action as a member of the community."

The bulletin emphasizes the fact that "civics is taught as a separate subject until the eighth grade, but that civic education is a phase of all the work of the school. The aim seems to be to make of education, not a process of instruction in a variety of subjects, but a process of growth, during which the various relations of life are unfolded."

Incidentally it is pointed out says the Washington Reporter that "there is no 'subject' of ethics or moral education in the Indianapolis schools, but the direct moral training accorded by the course here outlined is peculiarly virile. So, also, while there is no attempt to give direct vocation training in the strict sense of this term nor even any organized form of 'vocational guidance,' nevertheless the fact is always taken into account that the citizen must be a worker and the worker a citizen."

"Instruction through the course of study is, however, only a part of the training for citizenship given in these schools. 'An essential part of every pupil's training in community citizenship,' writes Mr. Dunn, 'is for these without the cultivation of qualities and habits of good citizenship. Instruction and training must go hand in hand.' The latter is largely a matter of practice." Pupil participation in school management is very real in Indianapolis and in some schools it is carried to a high degree of effectiveness. It is a lively skill in the method of preparing and conducting festivations, in the care of school property, in protecting the rights of younger children, in maintaining the sanitary conditions of the building and grounds, in beautifying school grounds; in the making of repairs and equipment for "our school;" in fact in every aspect of the school life.

In Indianapolis pupil participation in the government of the school leads naturally into pupil participation in the larger civic life of the community of which the school itself is a part. Maintaining order on the playground naturally extends to maintaining order on the streets in the vicinity of the school. It is common for committees of older boys to look after the safety of younger children in crossing streets near the school. Solicitude for the cleanliness and beauty of adjoining streets, alleys and vacant lots. School gardening quickly stimulates home gardening and whole neighborhoods have been transformed through the influence of the schools.

Whether the children who are now undergoing this training for citizenship will in reality be efficient citizens 10 or 20 years hence cannot be foretold, according to Mr. Dunn. But he adds: "There is apparently ample evidence that they are better citizens now; and moreover that the present civic life of the city is appreciably affected by it. Where immediate results are so apparent and so far-reaching the effect upon future citizenship should certainly be appreciable."

It does not sound as inconsistant as it might for workmen employed at the Hussy-Binns Shovel company to complain at being compelled to travel to Second street to cross the railroad tracks when Third is the most convenient point at which to cross. But the Pennsylvania Railroad has the right, admittedly, on its side, and is to be given proper credit for its enforcement of the edict against trespassing. However, neither making complaints nor extending credit will build the overhead bridge that is sadly needed at Third street.

All tragedies are sad and some a little sadder than others. The tragedy of Tuesday in the Monongahela river, where George M. Stewart lost his life was one of the saddest because of the conditions surrounding his death. Only deepest sympathy is to be extended those of his loved ones left.

The election of a Charleroi man to a high position in the B. P. O. Elks' grand lodge is another honor to the town. Not only the individual, but the whole community profits when one of its sons is so favored. Consequently the whole community can rejoice with Grand Trustee Masters.

The death of Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, head of the United States bureau of mines, has come as a distinct shock to the Monongahela valley miners. Few men have done more than he for increasing the safety of mining operations.

Every time Arnold City has a fight it is reported as a murder to the county authorities. But one thing about Fayette is that its county officers are prompt in getting to the scene.

MONESSEN MAN HEAVILY FINED IN POLICE COURT

Assyrian Claimed to Have Paid Carfare of Elizabeth Woman to Monessen Has to Pay $100 Additional in the Burgess' Court.

Paying the car fare of an Elizabeth woman to induce her to visit him over night led to the administering of the largest fine in the history of the Monessen police court Wednesday. Abraham Dehood an Asyrian, was the man fined and he was forced to pay $100 for his misdeeds. The woman, Mrs. Anna Solomenes was required to serve time in the Monessen lockup, being unable to pay the $10 fine assessed her.

Mrs. Solomenes it was brought out had asked Dehood to send her money to visit him and that he had done as requested, bringing along Matilda McCardle a friend.

Arriving Tuesday afternoon at Monessen a good time began at Dehood's store. Intoxicating beverages were provided. The McCardle woman imbibed so freely, it is said that she was expelled from the house. The other woman remained all night.

The McCardle woman was taken in charge by a policeman to whom she muttered her story. Early Wednesday morning arrests were made at the Dehood store and Dehood and the two woman faced Burgess A. G. Dunlap. When fined, the man flashed a government check for $281 and was enabled to satisfy his bill of $100 but the woman could not pay her fine of $10 and her erstwhile lover would not, so back to her cell she was taken. The McCardle woman who was discharged, started to walk home to Elizabeth. Both women are married, and Dehood has a wife in Europe, it is asserted, yet he is claimed to have visited the Solomenes woman in Elizabeth nearly every week.

LAW WILL ELIMINATE MUCH OF CHILD LABOR

Manufacturers Find That New Legislation Will Affect 81 Per Cent Of Juvenile Work—Association Canvasses the Entire State.

Elimination of more than 81 per cent of the child labor of Pennsylvania, because of the new child labor law, passed the last session of the legislature, is predicted in the monthly bulletin of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association made public this week.

The association canvassed the manufacturers of the state. The law affects children between the ages of 14 and 16 years and the statistics of the bulletin are based on children between these ages. The canvass was made among 4,000 manufacturers. Approximately 2,300 of the concerns are members of the association. The first communication brought 2,068 answers. The second communication brought 1,221 replies, according to the bulletin.

Calculating that the average minor receives $3 a week the report says that "industrious and often needy families throughout the state will have lost $11,700,000 a year through a law which Governor Brumbaugh forced the Legislature to pass, as he wanted it passed."

A Public Nuisance

Dust and mud-laden roads are a menace to comfort, to health, to civic progress.

Many of our roads are ankle deep in dust in dry weather and just as deep with sticky mud in wet weather.

The dust is worse than mud.

It hangs in clouds like a pall every time an automobile passes.

Where does it go?

SOME OF IT GOES INTO YOUR LUNGS?

Your wife and children breathe some of it.

It settles down over your yard and flowers—penetrates into the house and covers the curtains, the furniture, the dishes, the carpets and the walls.

You know how disagreeable it is to sit on the front porch and breathe dust-polluted air and have it settle all over your clothes.

But your family gets more of it than you do. Think of them.

This form of annoyance can be stopped at little cost by having oil or asphalt spread over the roads.

Every citizen and every taxpayer with an ounce of pride or love of home and family should be glad and willing to seize the opportunity to put an end to dusty roads.

Scores of touring parties avoid a town because of the bad roads. They spend money and merchants need their patronage. A big sum of money is lost to a community every month that the roads are allowed to stay the way they are.

Why not make these roads dustless at a little additional cost?

Appoint yourself leader in a popular movement to overcome the dust—in your neighborhood at least.

Agitate it among property owners and neighbors.

Other towns and other neighborhoods are doing it. Start a movement in your town and neighborhood for good roads.

DO IT TODAY, YOURSELF.

One of The Atlantic road experts is now at work with your County Engineer. He will be glad to furnish full information regarding cost, amount of work and material required and will assist you in every way possible to secure the kind of roads you should have.

BLAINE TOWNSHIP ASKS STATE FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Petition Directed to State Department of Education is Received by County Superintendent Crumrine For Forwarding.

County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine has just received a petition from the school directors of Blaine township, directed to the state educational department asking for a high school for Blaine township. If the petition is granted and it probably will be, the new high school will be located at Taylorstown. Superintendent Crumrine joined with the directors in their petition before it was forwarded to the state department. Blaine township formerly had a high school but it did not amount to very much as high schools go, and was never recognized by the state department. Three years ago it was discontinued, since which time the district has been sending its pupils to the high schools at Washington and Claysville. There are now 22 pupils eligible for the high school in that township and the directors desire to establish an up to date three years course. The school board is composed of the following: Dr. G. R. Conger, president; A. M. Hodgens, secretary; Isaac Hodgens, John L. Post and Frank Carson.

Blindfolded Tire Buyers

This is to point out the way to the light.

Tires which seem identical are often most unlike. There are dozens of standards. The fierce competition compels many a compromise, affecting what you seek.

Features Which Cost Millions

Goodyear Fortified Tires have five great features found in no other tire. They have others which are rare—hidden features, never missed until the tire meets trouble.

These Goodyear extras, on this year's output, will cost us $1,635,000. Our 1915 improvements alone will cost us $500,000 yearly. And nearl all for things you never see—things you never miss until th tire falls down.

Yet our late price reductio saves our users about five millio dollars this year. And that wa our third reduction in two years totaling 45 per cent.

How to Judge

Judge tires by the maker. Judg them by known features. Eac exclusive Goodyear feature con bats a major trouble.

Judge, above all, by record Not by mere good luck or mi hap, but by Tiredom's gener verdict. In its 16th year th Goodyear tire far outsell any other. It has outsold f years.

By any measure you can us Goodyear tires are best. Ado them. Any dealer will supply yo
